

Rod “the other” Hendrix

OBJECTIVE:

Rod “the other” Hendrix offers guitar instruction that is tailored to each student individually and that will equip each student with the 20 essential areas of musical knowledge including: technique and repertoire, composition and improvisation, music history and theory, performance opportunities, and weekly encouragement, thereby building both skilled and dynamic musicians. Each student experiences a dynamic mix of private lessons, group Master Classes, progress evaluations and an array of public-performance opportunities. Students grow their skills by playing their favorite songs as well as learning the works of well-known guitar masters. Students become well-rounded musicians who, through their musical achievements, also master elevated life skills.

EDUCATION:

- Majored in Music Theory at Arizona State University
- B.S. in Business Administration, University of Phoenix

TEACHING:

- Taught guitar privately to teens
- Worked with groups of adults on music theory and performance

PERFORMING EXPERIENCE:

- Guitarist, bassist, organist and lead singer for several 60’s rock bands
- Lead role in musical “Bye, Bye Birdie”
- President of Concert and Honor Choirs at Westwood High School
- Member of Arizona State University Choral Union
- Member of numerous church choirs, sharing directing duties in several
- Performed in live concerts with top Christian recording artists
- Performed on studio recordings
- Singer/guitarist with worship team
- Church guitarist

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS:

- Member Music Teacher's National Association
- Member Arizona Music Teacher's National Association
- Member East Valley Music Teacher's National Association